Before Monograph

The company didn't know how to staff the team; there was no anticipation beyond a week, and the project managers had a very poor perception of the profitability of their projects. Our product was slow and not user-friendly.

Decision Criteria

I used Monograph with another client and was very satisfied. I think the company needed to step up to perform better, and it became a priority.

Use Case

Monograph is part of my day to day. It helps organize my meetings and discussions with the project manager and coordinate with the associates. Business reports really help our decision-making and our staffing.

Biggest Surprise

The team's enthusiasm for new things and the need to change.

“

This is Monograph, project management software perfect for architecture firms and helps a lot of project managers with staffing and profitability understanding. I really recommend that product.
